Dear valued customer,

RE: Discontinuation of Magnatec Product Range

TT Electronics Semelab is committed to providing reliable and innovative products, and supporting them as long as possible. However, it occasionally becomes necessary to discontinue a product and offer a suitable replacement.

With this letter we want to inform you that our Magnatec Product Range will be discontinued with immediate effect. Not only has the demand been decreasing but this has then made our task of supply chain management and cost containment a major challenge.

The confirmed list of discontinued parts of available here.

We will, where available recommend alternate sources that may be in a position to support your needs, but cannot guarantee all required parts will be supported by the alternate supply of indeed they will agree to support.

We apologize for any inconvenience caused by this development.

Yours Sincerely,
